Loehr Asks Action On Airport Area For West County

Points Out Double Taxation Under Current Plan Of Financing

NEVADA CITY—The board of supervisors Monday by unanimous vote approved a minute order to County Surveyor Carlos McGuire to prepare a tentative boundary for the proposed airport district that would have control of Loma Rica airport.

Action to proceed with an airport district for the western end of Nevada County came at the urging of Chairman Henry Loehr of Truckee, who argued that further delay has the effect of imposing "double taxation" on residents of the Truckee area.

Truckee already has its airport district and those within it pay an airport tax, while Loma Rica airport thus far has been aided financially out of general funds payable by all county taxpayers, including Truckee residents.

The latter feature gives rise to the charge of "double taxation" on Truckee area persons.

Procedure will be for residents of the proposed district to vote on whether or not they want a district.

Monday's action does not necessarily commit the supervisors to call such an election, however. It simply calls for preparation of a tentative district boundary map by the surveyor.

Loehr's suggestion almost died for lack of a second the other supervisors seemingly indicating no particular enthusiasm for the move.

When Loehr asked Supervisor Guy Robinson for a second to the motion he agreed and it was carried.

Events Scheduled For Olympic Games

Fifteen skiing and ski-jumping events, eight speed-skating races, three figure-skating competitions and a minimum of 28 hockey games, all involving more than 1000 athletes from 33 nations, will highlight the VIII Olympic Winter Games at Squaw Valley, February 18-28, 1960.

The proposed schedule for the international classic was released by Prentis C. Hale, president of the organizing committee.

In addition to the competitions, the schedule includes the colorful opening, closing and award ceremonies. There will also be ski jumping exhibitions and the organizing committee is investigating the possibility of holding dogsled racing and curling exhibitions.

Two firsts are included. The biathlon, a 20-kilometer event combination skiing and shooting, will be held for the initial time in an Olympic games, along with ladies' speed-skating competition.

The 11-day schedule encompasses two weekends and one holiday, Washington's Birthday, February 22.

The contestants are expected to arrive 10 days ahead of the opening, during which time they will hold daily practice sessions to prepare for the games.

All events, excepting cross-country skiing and the biathlon, will be conducted in Squaw Valley proper. The cross-country events are scheduled at McKinney Creek, 12 miles south of Squaw Valley. However, the cross-country competitors will be provided with practice courses in the Squaw Valley area.

Poetic Name Given Local Church By Governing Board

The official board of Community Methodist Church of Truckee announces that a new name for the church has been selected. "Church of the Mountains" was the name chosen by a majority of the congregation and approved by the official board. This new name goes into effect immediately.

The change of name is the first step toward a total re-organization of the church. Since this church is the only major denomination Protestant church in the community there is a feeling, on the part of the pastor and congregation, that a program should be created which will include those persons whose denominational background is other than Methodist.

This new program will be geared to develop a church with an inter-denominational emphasis. Although the church will remain Methodist in policy, the activities, including religious education and worship, will lay stress on the ideas and suggestions of the inter-denominational councils, such as, the National and World Council of Churches.

Walt Disney Will Head Pageantry

Walt Disney, whose cartoons and other motion pictures have won him international fame as both a craftsman and a showman, has accepted the position of pageantry committee chairman of the VIII Olympic Winter Games at Squaw Valley. The announcement was made by Prentis C. Hale, organizing committee president.

Disney, recipient of 26 awards from the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, as well as hundreds of others from around the world, will oversee the staging of the elaborate and spectacular Olympic pageantry, including the opening and closing ceremonies and the moving victory ceremonies which follow each event.

Also under Disney's direction will be the decorative theme to be used throughout Squaw Valley and the surrounding communities with the emphasis on the competitive areas.

The pageantry chairman will also arrange the colorful and traditional relay of the Olympic torch in addition to planning the musical program, which will include the national anthems of each of the 34 countries scheduled to compete in the February 18-28, 1960 classic.

Disney, a noted sportsman as well as film producer, came to Hollywood from Kansas City in 1923 and five years later exhibited his first Mickey Mouse cartoon. Disney followed the tremendous enthusiasm generated by Mickey Mouse with such characters as Donald Duck and Pluto.

SPEED LIMIT PLACED ON NEW FREEWAY

The division of highways announced today they were placing a 35-mile an hour speed limit on nearly one mile of Highway U. S. 40 in the vicinity of the Magra Overhead, about five miles east of Colfax. The limited speed zone will include the last 4100 feet of the recently opened freeway between Colfax and Magra and 1100 feet of the existing highway U. S. 40.

Highway officials say the limit is necessary to slow the movement of traffic in the transition from the full freeway to the two-lane roadway of the existing U. S. 40 in this vicinity.

The 35-mile an hour limit will become effective with the posting of signs. Officials in Marysville say this wil be done some time this week.

Ski Style Show To Be Featured Here At PTA Meeting

A ski style show, featuring both proper and improper ski costumes and emphasizing skiing safety measures, will be the attraction at the November meeting of the Truckee Elementary P.T.A. to be held Monday evening, November 10 at 8 p.m. at the elementary school. The show will be under the direction of Mrs. Francis Snyder, who will also act as narrator.

Elementary school and pre-school children will model the costumes and act out the skits. A most unusual modal, the Abominable Skiman, will also make his debut at the style show.

Following the style show, Eugene Goodrich, coach of the Tahoe-Truckee High School ski team, will explain the forthcoming school ski program.

An added attraction will be the in-between-acts performance of a new singing group, "The Hi Notes," under the direction of Michael Leslie, fifth grade instructor. These five boys and girls, John Besio, Betty Saarni, Julie Knoff, Karen Walker, and Goldie Anfield, will present two numbers.

Refreshments, provided by the fifth grade mothers, will be served during the program, and parents, teachers, and friends will be seated throughout the entire meeting at specially decorated card tables.

Mrs. Roy Saarni, president, urges all parents and friends to attend, and again reminds all fathers that they will be counted double in the room count. Mrs. Arlene Roth's grade won the room count banner for the second time at the October meeting.

Last month's membership drive under the leadership of Mrs. June Farley, chairman, was a great success, with over 140 members now being listed on the new membership roster.

Ceremony Will Be Held To Dedicate New Street Lights

New Lights Turned On As Chamber Proposes Program

Efforts of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce and the Truckee Public Utility District paid off Tuesday night when the 10 huge electroliers installed along the main street were switched on to cast their glow over the thoroughfare.

A brief ceremony to honor those responsible for the new lights will be held Saturday evening at 7:30 in the area adjoining the depot. N. F. Dolley, president of the chamber of commerce, who is arranging the affair, said the Tahoe-Truckee High School band will be on hand and brief talks will be made.

Cecil Edmunds, retired manager of the district, the board of directors and the committee from the chamber of commerce, all of whom had a hand in securing the new lights, will be honored.

The new lights are on 30-foot standards and arch over the street some eight feet. Each fixture contains four lamps of 155 watts which provide 37,300 lumens of light. The globes are flourescent luminaires, the latest type of lighting equipment and the power is supplied through underground cables. Being only 82 feet apart, the street on the darkest night is like daylight.

The lights replace the old electroliers which were removed two years ago to provide for removal of utility poles and lines along the main street.

WOLVERINES LOSE IN GAME WITH MINERS

RENO—Bishop Manogue Miners, behind the deceptive running of senior halfback Pat Hart, downed the visiting Tahoe-Truckee Wolverines 26-13 here Saturday to pick up their sixth win of the year. Diminutive Hart, who weighs in at only 150 pounds, tore through the Wolverine secondary repeatedly to acount for three of Manogue's touchdowns. The other touchdown the Miners scored was set up by Hart who carried it to the one-foot line after a long run.

Quarterback Orrie Miller masterminded the team's patterns, keeping the Wolverine backfield loose and allowing the long Hart runs.

Craig Robinson provided much of the offensive punch for the Wolverines. His passes provided the spark that moved the Wolverines in the final half as he pitched for both Truckee tallies and the point after.

Reexamination To Be Given Schools By Local Group

In recognition of the growing need for a secondary school system to meet the challenge of the post-Sputnik world, Charles W. Sciutto, principal of the Tahoe-Truckee High School, has instituted an interesting new program designed to re-examine the high school curriculum and determine in what specific ways it may be improved.

A citizens' committee of eight members, serving voluntarily, met for the first time last Wednesday evening, October 29, at the Tahoe-Truckee High School. Sciutto, principal, acted as moderator of the group. The members are: Mrs. Janice Hamilton, representing Floriston; Elmer Brown and Mrs. Roy W. Saarni, representing Truckee; Mrs. Maggie McMahon, representing Homewood; Mrs. Beverly Ribal, representing Carnelian Bay; Max D. Williamson, representing Donner Summit, and Conrad I. Wainscoat, representing Kings Beach.

Brown was elected chairman of the group following an informal ballot, and Mrs. Ribal agreed to serve as secretary. Mrs. Saarni will be publicity chairman.

The primary aim of the committee will be to examine constructively the courses offered at the high school and determine whether they are effectively providing the quality of education necessary to fit boys and girls to meet the future needs of themselves and our nation. Other citizens committees dedicated to the same goal have already been formed in other school districts throughout the United States and they are proving to be an effective means of changing and improving outmoded, entrenched curricula or curricula which emphasize too many of the so-called "snap" or "fluff" courses.

The new citizens committee of the Tahoe-Truckee High School hopes by means of these bi-monthly symposiums to uncover any possible weaknesses or shortcomings of our own school system and make constructive suggestions as to how they may be eliminated and the curriculum brought up to the highest possible standard. Conclusions arrived at during these discussions will be presented in due time to the school board for its examination and judgment.

The building will be converted into a four-room apartment for the minister's residence. There will also be three Sunday school rooms on the second floor. On the first floor will be an auditorium. This will in no way interfere with the erection of the new church as this building will continue to be used for meetings, dances and as a parish hall.

A church dinner will be held to allocate work in remodeling the building.

This Area Follows State Trend With Election Ballots

All Precincts Aid Democrat Candidates With Few Exceptions

The eastern end of Nevada County was not unique in its voting at Tuesday's general election and the results followed the trend throughout the state in giving democrats an overwhelming majority in nearly every instance.

Pat Brown California's attorney general, easily defeated Senator William Knowland in Truckee 508 to 190, while Governor Goodwin Knight, who carried Truckee, 321 to 188 four years ago in his race for governorship, was defeated by his democrat opponent, Congressman Clair Engle, 502 to 204.

Republican Powers won over democrat Anderson in the lieutenant governor race 358 to 345, to mark one of the few republican victories here. The other republican winners were Controller Robert Kirkwood and Secretary of State Frank Jordon, both incumbents.

Other results here showed the following total among the six precincts which include Truckee, Donner Lake, Soda Springs and Floriston:

Secretary of State: Jordon, 382; Lopez, 307.

Treasurer: Button, 337; Betts, 346.

Attorney General: Mosk, 484; Hillings, 203.

Congress: Johnson, 568; Tarr, 128.

Assessor: Kitts, 489; Cox, 70; Cicogni, 77.

Administrator: Ahearn, 439; Gordon, 150.

On the controversial No. 16, taxation of school property of religious and ther non-profit organizations, the six local precincts voted: no, 414 and yes, 284.

On Propostion No. 17, the sales tax issue, this area voted: no, 470 and yes, 184.

On the so-called right to work, Proposition No. 18, the local vote was 422 no and 258 yes.

Light Vote

Although there were more than 1000 registered voters in the six local precincts, only 719 bothered to turn out and cast their ballots, this despite ideal weather for election day.

PROGRESS ON 40 IS REPORTED BY STATE OFFICIAL AT MEET

Progress in converting U. S. 40 and U. S. 50 into four lane divided highways between Sacramento and the Nevada state line was reported September 23 by C. M. Gilliss, state director of public works and chairman of the California Highway Commission.

Gilliss reviewed work and plans for the two highways in a luncheon talk to the Arden-Arcade Rotary Club, meeting in a Sacramento north area restaurant.

He also discussed "our open door policy highway business" and said "our first concern is to get the people's views."

On U. S. 40 from Sacramento to the Nevada state line, all but 34 miles will be developed as a four lane divided highway by the end of 1959, Gilliss said.

"Approximately $21½ million of work has been done on this route to date," he explained. "An additional $36 million will be invested by the end of 1959, and the remaining 34 miles will cost another $48 million.

"The end of the 1959 construction season will be approximately 88 miles of U. S. 40 from Sacramento to the Nevada state line converted to four-lane divided highway. All of this will be, except for a short section east of Auburn, of full freeway status.

"The route location for the remaining 34 miles of freeway has been adopted. The time of construction will depend on action of the California Highway Commission and the availability of funds. It would not be physically possible because of the terrain and short construction season to complete this mileage in time for the 1960 Winter Olympic Games."

Gilliss reported that public meetings are being held and plans being prepared to convert U. S. 50 to a freeway from Sacramento to the Nevada state line.

"Freeway routes have been adopted from Brighton to Alder Creek from near Perkins Corner to the west city limit of Placerville, between Washington street in Placerville and two miles to the east, and between Fresh Pond and Riverton," he said.

"Some portions such as the Folsom bypass and the section west of Shingle Springs, have already been improved to modern two-lane standards as the initial stages of future 4-lane freeways. The Placerville bottleneck was relieved by an expressway completed three years ago and the relocation in the vicinity of Camino was completed in the past year."

Gilliss devoted much of his talk to detailing the efforts of the department of public works and the California Highway Commission "to ensure that our highway program is kept close to the people and responsive to their wishes."

"In order to best serve all the citizens," Gilliss explained, "the state legislature made the highway commission responsible for selecting routes within the legal limits the legislators establish. They feel that is the way to benefit the interests of the state and the local communities.

"The legislators know it is essential to select state highway routes at the state level. It is obvious that highway routes selected by local jurisdictions wouldn't always meet at the boundary lines, each local group being concerned primarily with its own problems.

"When the legislators found they could not administer all the details of the highway program, long ago, they delegated budgeting to the commission as well as route adoptions. They retain control in both fields.

Legislative rules govern the budgeting of the highway user tax funds; the legislature establishes the points between which state highway routes shall connect."

Gilliss told the Rotarians of the "town hall" type meetings which the public works department and the commission arrange to explain highway route matters to Californians and get the views of citizens and communities affected.

He also described the way the commissioners get budget recommendations each year from citizens' highway committee representing every county of the state.

"It's the people's program we're entrusted with," Gilliss said, "and our first concern is to get the people's views.

"We need all the facts, all the opinions, all the information. We believe we have effective systems to stimulate and get public opinion on both route and budget matters. We keep studying these systems, these procedures, to improve them.

"The door is always open and all concerned are specifically invited to step through the join our discussion."

When one travels around the country he becomes aware of the fact that this is a nation filled with monuments. These stone and cement symbols usually mark the farthest advance of an army, an experience around which people have built their lives, or the end of a journey. Near these monuments you will always find footprints which tell you that someone was here and then moved on. Sunday Pastor Taylor will preach on the topic, "Monuments or Footprints."

A meeting of all mothers interested in the Christian educational program of the church was held Wednesday at 1 o'clock at the church. Search for the Donner Family Camp Site

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the third part in the article written by Bert Olson, early California historian, on the search for the Donner family camp on Alder Creek north of Truckee.)

It was late July and I had been following Mr. Weddell's signs from Donner Lake over the range of hills east, when I came across Mr. Weddell replacing one of his markers on the trail. It was an interesting and eventful meeting for from then on I became a disciple of his and we met many times again. For over a period of seventeen years we spent time together, meeting in Truckee or on the trail itself, nearly every summer. We explored the possibilities of marking the trail from Prosser Creek east through Stampede and Dog Valleys down to its junction at the presen town of Verdi, Nevada, on the Truckee River. Many times we rode over this section of the Emigrant Trail deciding where markers should be placed and direction arrows erected.

In 1944 I had read the book of Irene D. Paden, "In the Wake of the Prairie Schooner" which had been published in 1943. Later that year I started a correspondence with Mr. and Mrs. Paden regarding their findings on the Emigrant Trail around Donner Lake. In July 1945 I persuaded them to meet me at Homewood Resort, Lake Tahoe and we talked of their absorbing experiences in following the trails across the country. They were a most intelligent and enjoyable couple. They had dedicated their summer vacations for over a period of nine years to thoroughly investigate and trace the many routes of the pioneers from Independence Missouri to California. They delved into hundreds of diaries and accounts of the emigrants, at libraries and Historical Societies in every good sized town from Missouri to the Coast, to secure at ffrst hand the most accurate information pertaining to the route of the trails across each state.

Anyone reading the volumnious bibliography included in their book will readily see the vast amount of research that went into their work. In the summer months they went by car to actually travel in the old wheel ruts, which in some places were still visible. Where they could not drive, they hiked miles through farm lands and forests, along streams and over the dividing ridges to see for themselves just where the wagons of the greatest migration of all time headed their way West. Through interviews with many pioneers and families now living along the trail, they were able to piece together hitherto lost sections of the trail and record it on their maps. Theirs was a most fascinating hobby and the results as shown in the published work will place for all time the exact route taken by the emigrants of those early days.

After we had talked they became interested in a further look at the Donner Lake section of the trail and we made plans to have Mr. Weddell take them over this particular region for further study. In August 1945 Mr. and Mrs. Paden with Mr. Weddell carefully went over the country from Dog Valley west tracing the emigrant's route from the best evidence they could find at hand. They tried to visualize each day's journey of the pioneers, where they camped, where water was available, and where the route crossed the hills and down into Prosser Creek. From their findings they were able to map out a fairly definite course the trail took in this section of the Donner country. Unfortunately I was not able to be with them, but later Mrs. Paden kindly furnished me with a complete report of their field work on the trail.

Mr. Weddell took them finally to the site he had marked as the main Donner family camp, after directing them across Prosser Creek and over the wooded ridge into Alder Valley. They came to agree with his version of the trail, especially as they knew Mr. McGlashan had pointed it out to him in 1927 when they had been over this section of the terrain together. It was their firm opinion that Mr. McGlashan was the foremost authority on the route of the Donners and that the marking of Mr. Weddell was the most logical as to the approximate site of the George Donner family camp as well as the trail itself.

Their conclusions were a happy reward for Mr. Weddell for his years of painstaking work on the trail. Working so close with the Padens he could feel their deep interest in his markings and they passed up no opportunity to prove every point by referring to their store of maps and manuscript data from time to time to sort out any clue as to the directions the wagons must have taken. It was their opinion also that the main Emigrant Trail used later, crossed Prosser Creek at about the junction of Alder and Prosser Creeks, near the present site of the old historic hotel known as Prosser House. The Donner trail reached Prosser Creek a short distance above this junction and headed directly west over the wooded slope and down into Alder Creek Valley.

As to this point on the trail a controversy has existed for many years. In recent times several groups have contended that the Donners did not cross the ridge into Alder Creek and that the George Donner family camp was on the south side of the valley and at a distance of perhaps half a mile from Mr. Weddell's marked site. The forest ranger service have seen fit to mark their version of the trail and the location of the camp site.

The kindergarten children at the Tahoe Lake School dressed in their spooky costumes on Halloween day and visited the grade school.

A short program was presented to the first grade. Billy Moyer gave the poem, "The Old Owl in the Tree." Gay Wuthman, Steven Henrikson, Julie Howard, Paul Ruhkala, Peggy White and Julia Gahlert acted a little play, "Five Little Jack-o-Lanterns." The class sang, "The Witch Is on Her Broomstick."

SECOND: The second grade started their experience storybooks this week. Reading our own stories is much more fun than our readers. The first three stories in our book are those of Denise Kimball, Mark Sullivan, and Cheryl Bechdolt.

THIRD: Teams have been chosen to compete in speed drills to speed up our addition combinations.

FIFTH: The fifth grade pupils prepared a short Halloween play entitled, "The Most Famous Cat." Cathy Conners played the cat. Karen McBride played the witch. Other members of the cast included Julianne Bechdolt, Stephen Rogers, Joyce Anderson, John Handy, Alex Cushing, Joan Palmer, Kristen Meixner, Stephanie Snyder, and Jeff McLane.

The choir is under way again. Many new songs are being learned this year.

Carolyn Owens, Jeanette Raymes, and Jeannie Kirkpatrick have left Tahoe Lake for the winter. We shall miss them.

KINGS BEACH SCHOOL

SECOND: During special studies, we viewed a film on firemen. After studying the work of these community helpers, we drew pictures and wrote stories about them. The following children have completed their stories: Lyle Draney, Dennis North, Cathy McIntire, Chris McDonald, Sandra Martin and Kathleen Critchley.

Wednesday, while playing dodge ball, Ellen Dennis was the winner of the game.

We had perfect attendance Monday and Tuesday of this week.

THIRD: Autumn and Halloween are everywhere in our classroom. We made witches and pumpkins for our windows and harvest cut-outs for our border.

FOURTH: Our class has been busy with maps. Cabrillo's voyage, the places he claimed for Spain and San Miguel, where he died, are all shown.

During science, we've compared tyrannosaurus and brontosarus with animals today. We've learned the difference between the meat and plant eaters of those pre-historic days and have had a number of discussions.

Yesterday our class spent 35 minutes watching an Indian film on California Indians.

Our library chart has been started. Red stars this week go to the following: Skip Howe, Leonard Holland, Steve Malmgren, Kathy Chastain, Carol Corbin, Martha DeGregano, Nancy Hutchinson, Kathy North, Debbie Martin, Cathy Rockholm, Christine Wainscoat, Williams and Christine Martens. All had good book reports.

SEVENTH: We had a Halloween party Friday. The seventh grade arranged it by themselves. The committees for decorations are Sandra Riggs, Danell Pomin, Mary Ann Spitsen; for refreshments, Sandra Snyder, Greg Thompkins, Betty Christensen; for clean-up, Brad Thompson, Bob Holley, Harry McIntire and for entertainment are Peggy Cernusak, Ricky Krips and Bill Bate.

OUR CLASS OFFICERS: On October 27, our class voted for officers We vote for officers every six weeks, and monitors about every two weeks, the officers are as follows: President, Larry Free; vice president, Karla Kaiser; secretary, Karen Critchley; treasurer, Jimmy Hilgesen; tap secretary, Kim Molsberry, Larry Free (assistant); arrow secretary, Karen Critchley, Brad Thompson (assistant).

OUR MONITORS: Class librarian, Karen Henry, Kim Molsberry. School librarians, Sandra Riggs, Bill Bate, Lynn Staben. Chalk board, Brad Thompson, Madelyn

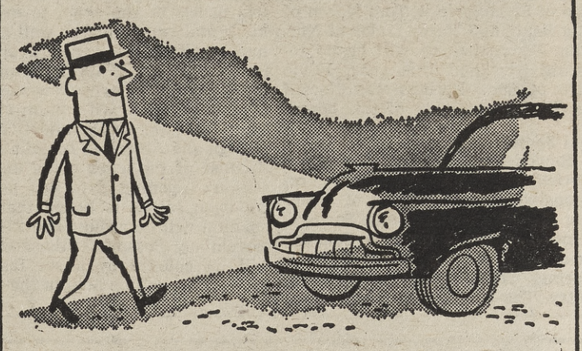
SAFE WALKING TIPS



WEAR SOMETHING WHITE AFTER DARK

When the sun does down, pedestrian deaths go up. The reduced visibility during the darkness hours makes both walking and driving conditions more difficult.

It is no coincidence that the greatest number of pedestrian deaths occur during December—the month with the most hours of darkness. As the days grow longer, the toll drops off sharply.

The AAA offers the following advice: You can protect yourself best when walking at night by wearing a light article of clothing, preferably shoes or stockings (trousers in the case of men) since the headlight beam of most cars will first hit low on the body. On the other hand, dark clothing greatly reduces the distance you can be seen by approaching vehicles, in some cases, as much as 50 per cent.

Don't take unnecessary chances. Wear something white at night, and give the driver a chance to see you.

DONNER SUMMIT NEWS

by DONNA I. POWER

deRyke Elected . . .

At a special election meeting held this week Jack deRyke was unanimously elected for a third term as president of the Donner Summit Community Club. The group feels that he is familiar with the problems and policies of the area, and that his leadership would be valuable in the coming year. Also elected from the names presented by the nominating committee were: Mrs. Betty Board of the Sugar Bowl area to the post of vice president; Mrs. Betty Hampton, who lives at Norden, recording and correspondence secretary. Elected to serve a second term was Mrs. Mary Williamson of Soda Springs. The elected board of four directors for the coming year are: Mrs. Dorothy Bacon of Cisco Grove, Max Williamson of Soda Springs, Tom Mason of Big Bend, and Harry Loder of Norden. Because there will be no retiring president this year, Edvie Aro of Soda Springs was elected as the fifth member of this board.

Ski Shop . . . .

Remodeling and expansion of the Zorich Ski Shop is currently responsible for the sounds of building being heard in Soda Springs. Vince Lyddane and Bob Cannon, co-owners, of the adjoining Soda Springs Hotel, are doing the carpentry. The addition which is being constructed at the rear of the present building will house a complete ski rental shop. This to include toboggans, skis, poles, boots and garments. This has enabled Bud Zorich, owner of the shop, to expand his rental equipment as well as his new stock. Space is now available in the old part of the building for installation of a new showcase and mannikins which wil exhibit everything for the skier, under many foreign and American brand names. Because of the work going on this season's opening date has not as yet been set. It is hoped that the opening will be around the 27th of November. Possibly this opening will be colored by a ski fashion show which will be held in the Soda Springs Hotel.

Successful Party . . . .

The enthusiasm expressed by the witches, black cats, and goblins at the Donner Summit Community Club annual Halloween party proved it a real success. Mr. and Mrs. Schull again very graciously gave the facilities of Kiski Lodge where all were gathered at 6:30 on All Hallows Eve, October 31. Entertainment began when James Simmons demonstrated his ability to smell a fingerprint placed on a broom handle in his absence from the room. Competitive games for all age groups having been organized by Mrs. Hampton, Mrs. DelCarlo, and Mrs. Mason captured the spirits of all. The traditional apple bobbing pail was the wettest ever. Hopes reached a high during the costume judging done by Bill Garbe, Jack Wolsey, and Mrs. Levey. Prizes were won by Danny DelCarlo, and Karen Madden in the pre-school age group, Lynn Aro, and Billy Mason of the primary class, fourth through eighth grade group was topped by Bunny Board and Pauline Waiden.

Typical decorations all made and put up by the children of the Donner Trail School provided a colorful background for the evening. Attractive as well as tasty refreshments were enjoyed by 150 parents and children who attended.

Residents Move . . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Beyer, Jr., have anounced their plans to leave the area. They have rented a new apartment in Menlo Park, where they expect to make their new home beginning December 1. The move will allow Beyer, a flyer for Pan-American Airways, to spend more time in his home. The present Beyer home is being rented to the Bisson family of Soda Springs.

Dog Killed . . . .

Mr. and Mrs. James Simmons sadly announce the passing of their much loved pet, T. J., on Wednesday. The dog was hit by an automobile passing the Simmons home. The driver of the vehicle purchased a German police dog, in an attempt to console the couple. The new dog is greatfully appreciated and loved already.

Convalescent Recovering . . . .

We are happy to welcome Mrs. Helen McCarty of Soda Springs home from the St. Mary's Hospital in Reno. During her four-day stay at the hospital, Mrs. McCarty had a cyst removed from her hand which is now in a cast. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Visitor Welcomed . . . .

Mrs. James Leonetti was welcomed Friday morning at the Bisson home in Soda Springs, where he also spent Saturday. Leonetti of Los Alto is a chef at the Los Altos Country Club.

Sewing Club Meets . . . .

The girls of the Donner Summit Sewing Club again held their Thursday afternoon meeting at the home of Donna Power in Soda Springs. Following completion of her head scarf, Barbara Lyddane began work on an apron as a Christmas surprise for her aunt. Susan Nord is making progress toward completion of her scarf. Pat Kelly, Cecil Weatherfield and Roberta Keiser began making colorful head scarfs upon completion of their pin cushions. Elizabeth Koester also exhibits a completed pin cushion.

Students Return . . . .

Della Durst and Joyce Weatherfield both home economics majors at Sacramento State College in Sacramento, spent the weekend visiting at Donner Summit Lodge in Soda Springs. The girls, now freshmen at the college, spent the past summer employed as dining room waitresses at the lodge.

Ensleys Leave . . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ensley and son, Ray, who resided in Soda Springs have returned to their home in Auburn. Ensley, who is in the employ of the Bell Telephone Company, has spent the summer as inspector, watching the progress of the new highway in relation to the underground cables belonging to the telephone company.

Auto Accident . . . .

Sunday, November 2, Mr. and Mrs. Wsiss of Fair Oaks traveling east on Highway 40 through Soda Springs at about 9:45 were unable to avoid an accident. The couple in their 1958 Triumph pulled off the highway to avoid hitting head-on an oncoming car passing a third vehicle. In doing so, Lewis Wsiss, driver of the car, lost control. The car hit the loose gravel of the shoulder and a drainage ditch. The Wsiss auto spun and rolled over. Because the couple was secured in their seats by safety belts neither was injured seriously. Mrs. Amy Wsiss received a slight cut on her knee. Both were shaken and upset. Their shinny red Triumph is badly damaged. The passing vehicle sped away unconcerned.

DANGEROUS DRIVING HOURS ARE STRESSED

The three most dangerous driving hours are between 5 and 8 o'clock in the evening.

Statistics compiled by the California Highway Patrol show that more accidents occur and more persons are injured the first two hours of that period than during any other two-hour period throughout the day or night. The rate of fatal accidents, however, is highest between 6 p.m. and 8 p.m.

"The meaning of these statistics is clear," Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell declared. "Driving at night, and especially during the early evening hours calls for sharper driving for safety. Any letdown in attention to the job at hand can lead to disaster."

Noting that excessive speed and improper use of headlights are frequent contributing factors to nighttime accidents, the commissioner urged motorists to "drive at a speed that will allow you to stop within the sight distance of your car's headlights."

"Failure to lower the headlight beam when within 500 feet of an approaching car or when following another vehicle within 200 feet is a dangerous violation of the vehicle code that contributes to many accidents," Caldwell said.

The first baseball series between New York and Brooklyn began July 20, 1858.

IMPROVEMENTS WILL BE SOLD ON HIGHWAY

Four items of improvements located on land acquired for the construction of the four-lane freeway on Highway U. S. 40 near Putts Lake, west of Emigrant Gap, and Gold Run will be sold at public auction on November 12, the division of highways announced today. The improvements must be removed from the right-of-way prior to April 1, 1959. The sale will commence at 11 a.m. at Lakeview Lodge west of Emigrant Gap.

The first item to be sold is the Lakeview Lodge restaurant and bar and the fixtures, item two is a two-story cabin at Lakeview Lodge, item three is a two-story cabin at Lakeview Lodge, and item four is a cabin and woodshed on the north side of U. S. 40 just west of the Apple Tree Inn in Gold Run. All of the buildings are of frame construction. A faithful performance bond of $500 will be required of the successful bidder for each item.

Highway officials said that the price of the bid must be paid at the time of the sale in cash, cashier's check or certified check. Personal checks will not be accepted. In the event that the bid for any item is over $100, a deposit of $100 will be accepted with the balance payable in ten days, Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays excluded.

The sale will be conducted by personnel from the right of way department of District III, California Division of Highway in Marysville.

Board Gives Tahoe Zoning Approval

AUBURN—Establishment of a special business zone at Lake Tahoe to permit additional commercial development in the area south of Tahoe City was approved by the board of supervisors.

The zone extends from Tahoe City to a point about three miles south. The action was recommended by Mazy Salter, planning director, with certain restrictions to preserve the rural character of the area.

Request for permission to construct a shopping center in the zone is pending from the firm of Towers and Joyce of Oakland. It has drawn protests from the lake residents.

The firm is expected to renew its request to the County Planning Commission for a land use permit when the zone ordinance becomes effective.

SAFETY BELTS HELD IMPORTANT IN CARS

BERKELEY—Nearly 1500 California traffic deaths could be prevented annually if drivers would use seat belts in their automobiles and trucks, according to Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, state health director.

If seat belts were in use at the time of each auto crash in California, it is estimated that half of the lives lost by occupants of these cars would be saved, he reported.

"This one safety device" continued the director, "could prevent from 1000 to 1500 deaths each year more deaths than occur from tubreculosis and polio combined."

NEW RULES APPLY TO PLACER SEPTIC TANKS

Dr. Richard F. White, Placer County health officer, has setforth some new rules and regulations regarding sewage disposal by septic tanks in Placer County. These regulations are meant to clarify the intent of Ordinance 340, Series B, Section 8 of the Placer County Building Code as ordained by the Placer County Board of Supervisors in 1955.

Dr. White said that these rules are designed to guarantee as safely as possible that sewage failures from septic tanks will not occur. Many portions of Placer County have soil which is very unsuitable for sewage disposal and hence restrictions must be quite exacting.

Copies of the regulations have been sent to various county officials and are given to anyone applying for a building permit in which septic tanks are involved. They will also be given to any interested person inquiring at the health department.

TREE CUTTER FINED IN JUDICIAL COURT

TAHOE CITY—Friday, October 31, District Judge Harry Charrison of Tahoe City, fined John Patten of Truckee, Nevada County $250 and gave him instructions to pay to the U. S. Forest Service and Fibreboard Company damages amounting to $1,006.30 for illegal cutting of Christmas trees.

Patten was cited by forest officers of the Tahoe Cooperative Christmas Tree Patrol with failure to file with local county and forest officers prior to cutting, not having written permission to cut trees from U. S. and Fibreboard lands and failure to determine correct land lines prior to cutting to avoid trespass.

STATE BASKETBALL TOURNEY REOPENED

In a surprise move last week, the county school superintendents of Nevada reinstated the state basketball tournament. Under the new plan, the tournament will be divided into three divisions, the "A," "A," and "B" sections and will be held at the University of Nevada in Reno on March 6 and 7, 1959.

For the first time in history, each division will compete on the state level to determine a champion. Two teams from the north and two from the south in each of the three divisions will qualify in the respective zone tournaments for the right to enter the state play-offs.

The Northern Nevada Conference, meeting in Sparks last Sunday, has voted to hold the "A" and "B" zone tournaments in Reno, while the "A" tournament will move to Douglas County high's new 1200 seat gymnasium in Gardnerville.

This tournament, involving Tahoe Truckee, Yerington, Stewart, Lovelock, South Tahoe, Winnemucca and Douglas will be held on February 26, 27 and 28 with all games being played in the evening. The "AA" and "B" tournaments will be held at the same time.

CIGARETTE TOSSERS RAPPED BY PATROL

SACRAMENTO — The motorist who throws a burning cigarette, cigar, or match out of his car was likened today to a hit-and-run driver by California Highway Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell.

"Just as a hit-and-run driver runs away from the scene of his crime, so also does the person who starts a disastrous fire with his illegally disposed of cigarette, cigar, or match," Caldwel said.

"The fact that the latter may not know he has started a fire is no excuse. He violated the California Vehicle Code when he threw the lighted substance from his car."

Caldwell noted that weather conditions are such that the fire hazards continue to be acute. Highway patrol officers, who issued 90 citations during August for throwing burning cigarettes, cigars, or matches from cars, will remain especially alert to this violation, he said.

Ericksons Leave Norden—
Mr. and Mrs. Ole Erickson, who are well known on Donner Summit, have left for Sacramento where he was transferred by the Southern Pacific Company.

Leave Donner Lake—
